

5) On the traces of World War I: from the meadows of the Croda Rossa to the Passo Monte Croce

Starting point: Moso/Berghotel (1370 m)

At a quick view: Berghotel – meadows Croda Rossa - Passo Monte Croce - Berghotel

Difference in altitude: ca. 50m and 600m a descent

Highest point: ca. 2000 m

Time of walking: 5 hours

Length of trail: ca. 13 km

Difficulty: 2 shoe excursion

Description of the way: From the Berghotel (1370 m) we walk at the right at the church of Moso to the Café Kofler and across the meadows to the funicular of the Croda Rossa. We take the lift and arrive at an altitude of 1950m. Here starts the excursion on the path nr. 15. The path starts flat and arrives in a short wood and then follows under the rocks of the Croda Rossa, the Peak Nine (Neuner) and the Arzalpenkopf. Along the entire path you can see many rests of the World War I. The last piece of the path goes down to the Hotel Kreuzbergpass crossing the ski slope. Now you can take the bus to Moso or walk on the way nr. 13A next to the river and way 1 back to the Berghotel.

Advices and suggestions: this is an easy but very nice hike, where you have the possibility to half it, going back by bus from the Passo Monte Croce. Many visible residuals from World War I.

Summary: an easy tour with interesting points about the World War I
